

Clients of the laboratory consider analysis time of utmost importance. We at Analytical Services feel the quality of the analysis is the most important factor but with that in mind we agree with our clients, that the analysis time should be as short as possible. Our objective is to accommodate both objectives.

Analytical Services' goal for analysis time (sample turn-around-time) from sample receipt to completion is to have 95% of all samples completed within 30 days of receipt.
